SafeSourcing Launches new Website

SafeSourcing, Inc. announces the release of its new website located at www.safesourcing.com

Scottsdale, AZ – SafeSourcing, Inc., a leading global eProcurement company specializing in e-sourcing, Procure to Pay solutions under the SafeSourceIt™ product family and flexible service offerings, announced today that it has officially launched its new website. According to Ron Southard, CEO at SafeSourcing, the new website and refreshed brand image are more closely aligned with our evolving strategic vision for growth and expansion.

The new SafeSourcing website offers a cleaner and more modern design, including simple navigation that provides a content-rich site experience. Our streamlined functionality enables our customers and suppliers quick and easy access when using our SafeSourceIt™ Procure to Pay suite of applications. These tools are offered in the form of Software as a Service via a cloud based platform requiring no customer or supplier IT investment. They include the popular SafeSourceIt™ eSourcing suite as well as SafeContract™, SafePO™, SafeCatalog™, SafeSurvey™, SafeDocument™ and SafeDashboard™.

The new website also provides the requisite social media integration with direct links to SafeSourcing's Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn pages, where company and other updates appear on a daily basis.

You can also visit the SafeSourcing daily blog published five days per week with a historical library of over 2,000 posts, the SafeSourcing Wiki with over 2,000 procurement related terms and the SafeSourcing template library containing 1,000's of products and services sourcing templates in order to augment your procurement research and educational needs.

This new and efficient website does not in any way replace the responsive customer service team and flexible offerings that SafeSourcing has come to have been known for.
